Introduction

On behalf of the Executive Team of MUNOL 2022 we welcome all participants to the 25th Anniversary Conference of Model United Nations of Lübeck. Founded in 1997, our conference has taken place at the Thomas-Mann-Schule, with the exception of MUNOL 2020. Since then, MUNOL has grown steadily and continues to do so.

The conference is prepared and run exclusively by students. Our special focus in 2022 is on internationality and diversity. We are looking forward to a conference with almost 500 participants from 7 different countries after two years of restrictions and smaller conferences due to the Covid Pandemic.

This week, all delegates will discuss and try to find compromises on highly political topics such as responsible consumption and sustainable production in the context of a more environmentally conscious lifestyle and behavior. Moreover, our prominent guest speakers will enrich the conference by giving you an insight into certain fields of their expertise, enhancing your background knowledge, and ameliorating the quality of debate.

This year again, there are exciting topics that will be debated in our 11 forums dealing with the conference theme "Responsible Consumption and Production". In 2022, the committees include the committees of the "General Assembly" which is held at the Hansemuseum, the "Historical Security Council", the "Special Conference on Responsible Consumption and Production" and more.

Furthermore, we are continuing efforts to make MUNOL as 'green' as possible by almost exclusively using recycled paper, separating waste in the forums and minimizing the use of single use plastics. More information about MUNOL going green can be found on page 16.

The aim of this conference is to spread political interest and commitment. The day and evening events serve as opportunities to get to know new people, make international contacts and gain self-confidence in appearing in front of a group. Of course, the most important thing is to have fun, and this year, there will be plenty of opportunities for that.

This information booklet contains the most important and basic information about MUNOL for the week. If you have any questions, please contact the Executive Staff of MUNOL 2022.

We are looking forward to many debates and hope for nice days in MUNOL's hometown Lübeck.

Yours sincerely,

Mert Tut and Lilly Hauer

Conference Theme

“Responsible Consumption and Production”

Consumption takes place everywhere: Whether at home, at work, at school, in transit or on our phones. Defined as the using up of goods and services having an exchangeable value, it accounts for, on an average, 60% of a country's gross domestic product.

However, consumption results from production – the process of making or growing goods to be sold. Thus, when mentioning consumption, production cannot be ignored, as the two actions are strongly connected, occurring as an ongoing process.

In recent times, both consumption and production have caused various problems in the economy, society, and environment. While they are crucial for the human species to survive, one must not ignore the consequences they themselves bear, as the cost of a good or a service does not only lie in its absolute material and manufacturing price, but additionally in the impact on its surroundings. To solve this massive issue, the economy, society, and the environment need to be respected equally and cannot be separated from one another. Moreover, it is indisputable that every party involved bears their own responsibilities concerning consumption and production and should assume their obligations thereto.

In a world where desires are unlimited, yet resources are scarce, decision-making is not an easy task. The economy strongly orientates itself towards the demand in a population and tries to calculate the needed supply. Still, the gap between More Economically Developed Nations and Developing Countries is massive. Each year, approximately 1.3 billion tons of food – roughly one third of all food produced – is being wasted, while about 9 million people are starving to death. Overconsumption in industrial nations is accelerating rapidly. Planned and perceived obsolescence run the customer markets: products are made less durable than possible, so customers have to replace them with new items, while favourability decides which new designs are chosen and which old cars, phones, etc. are too outdated. This leads to more and more products being wasted, whereas very few are suitable for recycling. For instance, technological and scientific progress nowadays enable companies to produce phones with replaceable batteries that could be used for centuries. Nevertheless, even today's high-end devices do not come with replaceable batteries and continue to be exchanged with newly purchased products.

In many countries, workers are being exploited systematically by big corporations for profit and for selling cheaper products. Clearly, this does not conform to human rights. Currently, workers are paid extremely low salaries while being exposed to toxic chemicals and having to work under even more inhumane conditions. On the other side, consumers are irritated and confused by contradicting statements and lack of information given by companies or retail shops.

Disproportionate and unnecessary consumption creates the basis of the ongoing environmental crisis. This so-called overconsumption takes place when the use of natural resources exceeds the sustainable capacity of a system. If this overconsumption continues, the system will be irreversibly destroyed. In our case, overconsumption would kill the natural system we all love and live in: our Earth. If we don't stop the systematic exploitation of our Earth's natural resources pushing them through our production facilities only to consume them irresponsibly in the end – the Earth as we know it will slowly fade away.

Every year over 80% of the world's electronic waste does not get recycled. Every day around 8 million pieces of plastic make their way into our oceans. Every minute an area equivalent to 35 soccer fields is cut down and burned.

This year's conference theme visualizes the 12th Sustainable Development Goal: "to ensure sustainable consumption and production patterns". With this conference we want to point out how the Sustainable Development Goals influence our everyday life. We should all ask ourselves the personal questions: What do I consume? What do I need?

And of course: What has to be done to achieve responsible and sustainable solutions?

Lasse Parlowsky and Constantin Tietz
Secretaries-General of MUNOL 2022

General Information

Premises

Approval Panel and Formal Clearing (Rooms 111)

The Approval Panel consists of a team of experienced adult supervisors, such as the MUN Directors. Their task is to correct mistakes in a resolution.

Secretariat (Room 022)

The Secretariat is the administrative center of MUNOL. If any urgent or important matters occur, you can approach this office.

Computer Room (Room 131)

Please bring a USB-memory stick if you wish to use the Computer Room. Documents can only be printed once. For multiplication, please use the photocopier in the Secretariat.

Due to a lack of space, there will be a maximum of two delegates per computer. We would kindly ask you to undertake all lobbying and merging activities before entering the Computer Room.

Kiosk (Room 023)

The MUNOL Kiosk offers a wide range of products, beginning with all sorts of snacks, drinks, and ending with our MUNOL Merch. This year the kiosk will also extend its offer with a variety of tasty sandwiches to bridge the time before and after lunch. In addition, the MUNOL Kiosk offers free coffee to every participant. Free water will be offered in your forum. The MUNOL Kiosk will be open during conference hours.

Photocopying Facilities

There are photocopying facilities at the conference, located in the Secretariat (Room 022).

Official Language

The official parliamentary language of MUNOL is English. It is very important, especially for the involvement of the whole forum, that all delegates stick to the official parliamentary language – in the debating process as well as during lobbying, breaks, informal debates, and other related activities.

Dress Code

All participants are obliged to be formally dressed throughout the conference (see also Art. 7 of the MUNOL Rules of Procedure). The Secretaries-General and the Conference Management have the right to deny access to any part of the conference for any participant not complying with the formal dress code. All participants are to be suitably dressed, wearing either long trousers in combination with a jacket, shirt and tie or a trouser-suit, a dress or a coat/blazer in combination with a skirt. Skirts and dresses should not end higher than one palm over the knees. Dresses and shirts must have an appropriate neckline. Furthermore, neither jeans nor sneakers are allowed. Non-compliance with the dress code is to be corrected for the further proceedings of the conference.

The Dress Code is mandatory for every participant of MUNOL, including the MUN-Directors.

Bus Shuttle and Public Transportation

Since there are four different venues, for the Opening Ceremonies, the General Assembly, Closing Ceremonies and the conference itself, a bus shuttle has been organized from the MuK to the TMS on Tuesday and from the TMS / Hansemuseum to the OzD on Saturday. The bus shuttle only operates when people have to change venues during the day. In case your session starts or ends at the Hansemuseum, public transportation is available that will take you directly into the city center from where buses leave to every direction of the city. If you need help, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Cab: +49 451 81122

MUN-Directors Parties

Carpooling will be arranged. For the party on Tuesday there will be a meeting at the school at 6 p.m. to collect all teachers and to get to the venue of the event. Of course, all MUN-Directors are invited to attend every evening activity.

Badges and wristbands

Each participant receives a badge at the registration. Wristbands are provided in green for delegates aged under 16, in blue for delegates aged 16 and 17 and in black for ages 18 and above. The wristbands are necessary to verify your age at all official evening activities. They comply with the official dress code. The badge is the only valid method of identification within the conference. It is not to enter any forum without this badge. Whenever it occurs that a delegate loses their badge or wristband, they have to obtain a new one for a fee of 5 € in the Secretariat. The badge is necessary to enter any MUNOL activity!

Please note: During the conference and all events associated with it, there may be pictures taken or video footage recorded. Some of the recorded material may be published on the internet via our website (www.munol.org) or different social media networks. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the Conference Management.

Donation box

MUNOL connects the world. We debate on issues, deal with crises and inform us about our planet. We meet different people and improve our abilities. But what can we really do to make the world a little better?

At this year's conference, we would like to support the people in and from Ukraine as best as we can. Therefore, we will have a donation box during the conference to collect money for Hanseatic Help.

Since the war began, Hanseatic Help has changed many of their processes so that they can provide help to those affected quickly and without complications - in Ukraine, at the borders and here, in Germany.

As an official partner of the "Pact for Solidarity and the Future" between the cities of Hamburg and Kyiv, they support the targeted provision of urgently needed relief supplies alongside the #WeAreAllUkrainians initiative and the Hamburg Chamber of Commerce.

Donations of any kind enable Hanseatic Help to send relief transports to the borders of Ukraine and into the country's interior. So far, they have been able to send 22 transports and over 700 pallets of urgently needed items to the people in Ukraine.

Arriving refugees are also accommodated in emergency shelters and only receive the most basic necessities. Here, thanks to donations, Hanseatic Help takes over the supply of everyday items such as clothing and hygiene articles.

With their first HelpStore, they opened their own direct distribution facility for clothing and other donations in March. Since then, in cooperation with the Ukrainian Relief Staff, they have been supplying Ukrainian families in private accommodation with basic necessities.

Rules for Evening Activities

Entrance with your badge and wristband only!

During every evening activity, all German laws, including the ones concerning alcohol, are valid, meaning no alcoholic beverages for any person under the age of 16 and for people of ages 16 and 17 only beer and wine is legal.

We expect a responsible attitude towards drinking and strongly condemn the misuse of alcohol. In case of disregard, participants will immediately be excluded from the conference.

The Executive Board and the club supervisors both retain the right to deny admittance to the evening activities in circumstances deemed necessary.

Emergencies:

Phone numbers: Police: 110,

Ambulance/Fire Department: 112

In case of an emergency or if important questions need to be answered, please contact the Executive Board. If anything occurs outside the conference hours, which requires the attention of the Staff, please call the Conference Management:

Delegate Information

Resolution Processing

This year once again, the purpose-built Resolution Editor will be used to write, manage and debate resolutions. The Editor can be accessed at the URL editor.munol.org. It is of utmost importance that all delegates carefully read and take time to understand the various informative texts and hints throughout the Editor. Any issues, including software and user errors or malfunctions, arising from the use of the Editor can be solved by asking fellow delegates, Chairs or contacting IT-Staffs and IT-Management. The Editor is designed to guide its users through all stages of the resolution workflow. This and all other relevant information can be found in detail on the Help Page. The Editor can be used on all device formats including desktop computers, laptops, tablets and mobile phones under the condition that a connection to the school network or WiFi is present and a modern web browser is installed.

Until an issue can be debated at MUNOL, it needs to be topic of a draft resolution, consisting of the prepared and merged working papers. After Lobbying, delegates write the first version of their resolution with the Resolution Editor in their forum. An appropriate menu item exists in the Editor for creating new resolutions.

Documents within the Editor are all called "Resolution" regardless of their workflow stage, but official names will be used henceforth where applicable. When a new document (at first a working paper) is created, it is assigned a token that is used to identify and access it. Do not forget or lose this token and don't share it with people you don't trust, as it can be used to gain editing access to the document it references. Saving the document claims the token and moves it into stage 1. Documents can be viewed as a nice-looking PDF from stage 1 onwards.

The delegate asks the chair for advice before looking for co-sponsors. When the sponsor has found enough co-sponsors, the Chair approves and advances the working paper to stage 2. The delegate may then go to the Approval Panel with their computer to have the working paper corrected.

Only the sponsor indicated on the working paper is allowed to enter the Approval Panel (AP). The sponsor will sit next to the teacher while the paper is being corrected on delegate's computer. This way, possible occurring questions regarding the meaning of certain phrases and sentences can be answered directly by the student. The sponsor corrects the mistakes together with the teacher on their laptop. Upon having completed correction, the working paper is advanced to stage 3 and a final formal check is performed by the Formal Clearing Office (FCO). Approval by the FCO advances the working paper to stage 4 and makes it a draft resolution. Formal clearing and the subsequent printing do not require the delegate to be present, as the draft resolutions are sequentially processed by the FCO and the Secretariat. After having reached stage 5 after printing, the physical copies of the draft resolution are distributed to the forums where the draft resolution is debated in stage 6. It is advanced to the final stage 7 when the debate is concluded. A passed draft resolution is then called resolution.

Guest Speakers

During MUNOL, some recognized experts and personalities of political importance will attend the conference to deliver a guest speech. Treat them with respect and prepare well for the question & answer time following the speech. Your Chair will let you know if your forum attends a guest speech.

Placards

The ambassador of each delegation will find a placard with the country's/NGO's/IGO's/UNO's name in the General Assembly. In the forums, each delegate will have their own placard. You need them for the voting procedures. Note that coloured placards in the forums indicate IGOs, NGOs or UNOs, which are not always allowed to vote. In the Security Council, they indicate the permanent members of the Security Council.

Plagiarism

We encourage delegates to use any sources available to them to obtain information and to prepare themselves. However, it is strictly forbidden to copy any already published material into a resolution. This behavior will result in serious punitive measures decided upon by the Secretaries-General.

Procedural Information

New version of the MUNOL Rules of Procedure

You can find version 8 of the MUNOL Rules of Procedure on our website munol.org. We decided to apply the gender-neutral pronouns "they/them" to our Rules of Procedure. We also introduced the "Motion to Conduct a Roll Call Vote" instead of the "Motion to Divide the House". Some smaller, other changes have been made as well.

Note passing

During all sessions, it is possible for delegates to send on-topic notes to each other. Sending notes to other forums is only possible if you send them to your ambassador. All notes have to be written in English on the official MUNOL notepaper sheets. The notepaper must state clearly by whom the note has been sent and who shall receive it. All notes will be screened and, if necessary, handed to the Chair by the Administrative Staff.

Ambassador Speeches

During the Opening Ceremonies on Tuesday, the ambassadors have the duty to speak for one minute on their country's policy and expectations for the conference. NGOs and IGOs may speak to the General Assembly during the Opening Ceremonies as well, if they so request.

Opening Statements

In their forum, each delegation will be requested by the Chair to present their country's opinion on each of the topics in a brief speech. This is done in order to find collaborators for lobbying by enhancing the knowledge of the other country's opinion.

The Role of a Delegate

Overview

For the proper simulation of the United Nations, it is vital that all students, acting as a delegate, take their duties and responsibilities very seriously.

Delegates are to conduct as diplomats at all times.

This involves a proper code of conduct but first and foremost a compliance with the official MUNOL

Rules of Procedure and the acceptance of the Chairs and the Executive Staff as the major authority. A conference at the scale of MUNOL can only work efficiently if all members involved cherish the level of professionalism and proficiency.

General complaints or dissatisfaction

If a delegate feels dissatisfied with any part of the conference, they are more than welcome to approach their Chair, the Secretaries-General, or the Conference Management to share their concerns.

Punctuality

It is needless to say that the proper conduct of a delegate demands punctuality. Not being present at specific times can be extremely disruptive to the debating process and gives an overall unprofessional impression of the delegate. Unpunctuality will normally result in punitive measures decided upon by the Chairs or the Executive Staff.

The relationship between a delegate and the Chair

A forum should be filled with mutual respect from both sides to ensure a productive debating climate.

MUNOL goes GREEN

Creating awareness for highly important issues and problems around the world is one of MUNOL's main goals and it therefore acknowledges climate change, pollution and the following mass extinction as one of the major crises of our era. Therefore, it has been trying to improve its eco-friendliness and -efficiency.

As this year's conference theme is directly connected to the progress of going green, we tried our best to include other measures. To reduce carbon emissions and other negative effects of the animal industry, the lunches at the TMS will be completely vegetarian, including vegan options. This year, we also tried to print as few documents as possible, including for example the resolutions and this booklet. We have also introduced recycled paper, two-sided printing, waste separation, fair trade products, and promotion of carpooling and public transportation. All these are steps towards a green MUNOL.

If you have any suggestions for further eco-friendly improvements just send an e-mail (conferencemanager@munol.org)!

Media at MUNOL

MUNOL has its own official newspaper – the MUNOL Magazine, published online throughout the week of the conference by our MUNOL Press Team. It contains many articles with the latest news from the conference, some entertaining stories, quizzes and more! Also, check out the MUNOL News every day to stay up to date on the current political situation on our globe. You're welcome to stop by the Press Room (024) or catch one of us running around the school if you want something to be published. There is a lot of funny and interesting stuff going on in other committees and behind the scenes of MUNOL. That's why you should check out the final MUNOL Magazine which can be picked up at the Kiosk on Friday. It will be worth it!

Code of Conduct

For all participants:

- MUNOL is a formal conference. This is also expressed in the way all its participants are dressed. Thus, all delegates are obliged to follow the dress code, which is determined in the official Rules of Procedure (Art. 7 RoP).
- Consumption of alcoholic beverages during the conference's working hours, as well as the use of any form of narcotic drug, is strictly prohibited. All applying German laws are valid. The misuse of alcohol will lead to an immediate exclusion from the conference by the Conference Management.

- For any damage caused to property of MUNOL or the Thomas-Mann-School, the responsible person will be charged immediately. Also MUNOL cannot be held responsible for loss of or damage to your property.
- No use of cell phones is allowed during the debates except if used for research.
- Technical devices are allowed to be used during podium speeches
- Smoking is not allowed anywhere in the building. Please exclusively use the designated areas outside the school.

For those participants staying in host families:

- Please respect the wishes and follow the rules set by your host family, with regard to curfew, dinner time, smoking, and other house rules.
- Bear in mind that you are granted their hospitality. Therefore, MUNOL would strongly recommend you to hand a small gift to your host family as an expression of your appreciation.
- Please inform your host family where you are, at any time. Please make sure that they are always able to contact you.
- If you have any problems concerning housing, please contact the Student Supervisors:

Mariana Schaub: +49 176 4717 4692

Kaya Kommerell: +49 157 3307 2024

For those participants staying in a hotel or youth hostel:

- Participants staying in a hotel or youth hostel are reminded that they bear a lot of responsibility towards the hotel they are staying in, as well as towards their fellow residents.
- Please remember that some youth hostels have a curfew. You can ask at the reception about the curfew and the possibility of a night key.
- Also, we remind the MUN Director of their ultimate responsibility for their delegates accommodated in a hotel or youth hostel.
